LOCAL INVOQUELERING Blind of Spies.—The Govern the Line Unit of States, having its head at Washington, is guilty of some of the meanest and mos contemptible acts the have ever disgraced the lower bases, most ight rant, and vindictive specimen of a human soul; i been, men who confer dignity upon official posi tion, even the highest in the gift of a people whose forefathing well into of from nerve and in domitable will, but whose degenerate issue have proved themselves unworthy of their lineage and there are men who are incapable of cont ring, and upon whom the bighest honors can so fer, nor grace, nor dignity. Would George Washington, or General Jackson, or Millard Fillmore have descended to the commission of a mean action? In all their history there is no record of departure from the strict path of duty and honorduty to themselves, to their neighbors, and to God. They were honorable men. As chilzens, they were not guilty of hypocrisy and double-dealing. They never blasted the reputation of others -they never lied to the injury of another for their own preservation from infamy and disgrace; and when they were elevated to the highest office in the gift of the American people, they brought to the discharge of their high duties pure hearts and un sullied reputations, and dispositions to do all that their great hearts prompted, and their cultivated minds perfected, for the good of the entire people. The present will not bear comparison with the past-what is to be our future? It is foreshadowed by the following:

William T. Burdett, and Daniel Spaulding, wer discharged from the Washington Navy Yard on Saturday last, for the offence of visiting Baltimore on the day of election. One of them is a residen of that place, and is entitled to a vote there. He went for the purpose of voting his sentiments, and he did vote. The other went with him-not to vote-for he was not a voter there-and did not

Is not this bringing the patronage of the Gov ernment in competition with the treedom of clections? Is not this persecution for opinion's sake? Is it not saying to free men, you must vote as I dictate, will take from you your bread and butter! Is i not the meanest and most contemptible exercise of arbitrary, power-a power usurped and meanly exercised for selfish ends?

How many Democrats, so called, went from Washington, who are employed upon the public works? How many were discharged for so doing?

No. None but Americans are thus persecuted There is an evident determination on the part of the general and municipal governments to starve out Americanism-to deprive all who are of that ilk, of every privilege-to compel them to desert their principles—turn traitors to their con-sciences, and betray their dearest and most cherished sentiments. One of the individuals above named was appro ched by a member of the Anti-American party, and told that, if he would desert the American party, he would procure for him a watchman's birth. He refused. Another, more pliant, accepted, and is now rejoicing in all the pomp and elecumstance, of official patronage.

Thus it is, and thus it will ever be. Thus it was in the days of our forefathers. Where are now the men who claim kindred with the heroes of the revolution-who when approached with bribes and offers of empluments from the coffers of a King-spurned the tempter-looked with indignant loathing upon the gilded bait, and manfully replied -"I am poor, very poorbut your King is not rich enough to buy me?

There were men in those days! and there were traitors too! Pories-corrupted by gold, and promises of honorable employment under the banners of a King who was fighting for the subjugation of their country! Thries, who prethe cause of the colonists must full; who had no confidence in God, or in the justness of the quarrel in which their brothern were engagedwho had no principles and who volunteered to do the dirty work, which British soldiers scorned.

There are plenty of such beings in the world still! Arnolds by finting, if not in name, who would betray their one mothers to death, and make merchandize of the sisters' hopors, and blush to record their meanness.

But we have men, too, in these days of Democratic misrule and Anti-Democratic persecution for opinion's sake-men who love their country with a fervency equalled only by the love which their fathers exhibited in shedding their blood and giving their substance and their lives for liberty and freedom of thought and action! and who will never succumb to tyranny and oppression, come from what quarter it may. Does any one ask where they are to be found? We reply, in the American party-among the bone and sinew, are men, "poor, very poor, but there is not money enough in the Democratic treasury to buy them!

BRUTAL ATTACK AND ROBBERY.—Mr. William Smith, of the firm of J. G. Smith & Brother, wood and lumber merchants, was passing up Pennsylvania avenue, on Wednesday night, between ten and eleven o'clock, and stepped into a groogery kept by a man named Birch, between Second and Third streets, for the purpose of collection an account. A crowd of some twenty persons of a netorious character were present, and one of the party called him out of the house. He went out, and the count followed him, and as soon as he got the crowd followed him, and as soon as he got out of the door he was struck over the head with a billy in the hands of one of the pasty. The blow stunned him for a moment, and as he was staggering and about to fail, he was seized from behind by some one, who chaped him around the arms and held him up while a number of the party beat him with billies, and cut off his right ear with a knife. While in this condition he was containing $103.

The Rappahamoek Agricultural Society, lately in session at Fredericksburg, Virginia, resolved to appoint a committee to present a petition to the Congress of the United States, praying that body to execute the resolution of the Continental Congress to creat a neconament to the memory of General Mercer, upon Mercer Square, in the town of Fredericksburg.

The work of codifying the laws of the District was completed the 19th of October, and the same certified to the President of the United States on the same day by the Board of Revisors, as required by the act of Congress. The act also requires the President, on being so notified, to cause the code to be printed and circulated among the people of the District, and to designate a day and the place for them to vote for or against its adoption.

In our uncertain state of existence we should esteem this opportunity of procuring faithful portraitu es of the faces we love and honor as a dear privilege, so flat if they are taken from us by death, we may at any time look upon the loved and lost, remember their virtues and kindnesse and b prompted to initate them.

TEN CENTS A DAY .- At a meeting of the great unemployed of Philadelphia, in Independence Square, on the 12th, one of Col. Forney's reporters was called upon to speak. He did so, and n the course of his remarks told them to go to work at any price, instead of idling away their time at public meetings. A half a loaf is better than no brend, that's a fact. But that men should work for ten cents a day is a preposterou idea, James Buchanan to the contrary notwith standing. He said in his seat in Congress that ten cents a day was enough for any mechanic. Ten cents a day! Ten cents a day!! Glorious times under Democratic rule! Peaceable city-people living under "their own vine and fig tree none daring to make them ashamed or afraid."-Model city, this Washington!

REMARKABLE INSTANCE OF HEROISM. -The Rev. Rumor, with her thou and tongues, is busy today, (the 15th.) but she is such a liar that no dependence can be placed upon her. It is said that the fellow who cut off the car of Mr. Smith has been arrested. It is said that there was a man killed on Thursday in broad daylight. It is said that some six to twelve policemen nightly assemble at the Northern Liberties' marked house, and do things not contemplated in their commissions, and it is also said that these men are watched and are known, and we are requested to notify them that if they continue their practises their names

Sevient in New York A trial going on before the Supreme Court in New York, involving a case of scandal, is fully reported in the New York papers. A Mrs. Woodman, of New Orleans, was discovered to be on altogether too intimate terms with a Mr. Furniss, while stopping at the New York Hotel. Her husband soon after placed her in a private lunatic asylum at Brooklyn, where he pays $100 per week for her board. Her reputed lover, Furniss, has sued out a writ to procure her "release. It is alleged that she is not insane, but is placed in the asylum by her husband as a punishment. Letters written by her to Furniss were produced in court, which soupley very endering terms towards which employ very endearing terms towards him. One of the witnesses, Allan McDonald swore that he was confined in the same insan asylum, several years since, when he was per feetly sane, was shut up in a room with raving lunatics, tied to a frame so that he could not move, and treated so brutally as almost to make him mad. Neither Mr. Furniss nor his counsel is allowed to see Mrs. Woodman. Much interest is felt to learn the result of this trial, and especially to ascertain whether the Brooklyn asylum is a house of correction for refractory wives.

VILLAGE NEWSPAPERS .- In our estimation there is not a more important institution in the whole country than village newspapers They are conservators of the public morals They go where books are seldom seen, and they bear welcome intelligence and pleasant greetings to all whose hearts are open to receive them.

The man of this age who don't take a newspaper is always behind the times. He never gets any news, only as his more highly favored or more liberal neighbors may happen to tell it to him. He don't even know who is Governor of the State he lives in. As to his knowing who is President, that is out of the question. Why, great Jerusalem! he thinks General Jackson President yet, and Major lack Downing Vice President.

It is the village newspapers that keep alive the public sympathy for any great cause, and make the heart of humanity beat with a firmer, steadier, and truer pulsation. Despise not the day of small things, lest great things never

QUICK WORK .- At a late fire in Cincinnati Ohio, an individual who happened to be at the door of the steam fire engine house thus lescribes the effect:

"The firemen, who were sitting by the stove, sprang instantly to their different posts. One applied a lighted match to the prepared fuel underneath the boiler; another lit the lamps; others got the excited and impatient horses ready, who started from their stalls at the first peal of the bell; and in precisely one minute and twenty-six seconds the steam fire engine started from the house into the street."
